THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for March sparkles with unusual brilliancy, owing perhaps to the fact that ... With six sonnets ... strangely prophetic poem ... The White Czar by Longfellow ... of that gallant soldier William Francis Bartlett by Whittier ... more than Sidney of our day. Good Times by George Parsons Lathrop and Winter by C. P. Cranch ... and pleasing poems ... poetry shows what the French would call embarras de richesse. The department of fiction is similarly strong containing three chapters of Detmold, Mr W. H. Bishop's popular serial, The Lost Lover, a touching story of New England Life by Miss Sarah O. Jewett, The Love of Alonzo Fitz Clarence and Rosannah Ethelton by Mark Twain, in his peculiar vein, and The Adirondacks Verified No. III, where Charles Dudley Warner relates with delicious humor his Fight with a Trout. Mr John J. Piatt contributes a paper on Edmund C. Stedman and his Poetry, and Mr Howells a sketch of the celebrated French poet of the last century Jean Francois Marmontel. The third Open Letter from New York by Raymond Westbrook treats of the metropolitan theatres and the present tendency to the romantic drama. The more solid and instructive articles are Arthur Venner's portrait of James Fazy, The Ring Politician of Switzerland, a brief sketch of Victor Emmanuel's Political Work by William Chauncey Langdon, The Staff of the United States Army by Assistant Adjutant-General Robert Williams, U. S. A., an argument for promotion by merit instead of by seniority, and, very apropos to the present rage for pottery, Edward H. Knight's profusely illustrated article on the Drinking Vessels, Pots, and Pans of Uncivilized Nations. The political article is by that veteran of the Galaxy Hon Gideon Welles, who gives in a characteristic way an account of The Opposition to Lincoln, in 1864. The Contributors' Club is bright and lively, and the writers discuss ...

WEDNESDAY FEB 20 1878

TO THE YOUNG MEN OF MAINE.

The leading newspapers of Boston are warning the young men of New England against being enticed to that city through the circulars sent out all over the country by irresponsible parties representing that opportunities for remunerative employment and business are open for all who go there and are calling upon the editors of all country newspapers to assist in exposing the black hearted designs of the soulless people who are thus guilty of drawing young men to that city and to ruin Read portions of Ed Stevens Piece ar the hands of young men Be not to day willing to not know where they are to earn to-morrow s bread The snow storm hailed with delight by a thousand men whose names are recorded in the city s list of Aid to shovel snow to the gallant sum of one dollar a day The overseer of the poor covers day and night young men home every charity is doing the same The State authorities pay lever dollar the expense of sending young men back to Scotland Ireland and Germany The cost of the same data says the fact the Boston has to-day a very large surplus of labor of all kinds from the street digger to the expert accountant Watch s boom in the country to remember where it was especially by offers have no solicitations of this character to em Old report of right the same statement and falsehood as invariable The Maine farmer as well as the mechanic or laborer is also sure to find employment It will seem a little strange to the young man who can get from $2 to $3 per day in Boston that he can do better in the country but when called to this there are those who seek to draw to the city young men from the country to get from them what little money they are able to carry with them either by deception or violence—it certainly become every responsible journal and every conscientious citizen to throw cold water on and put a stop to any young man as well restrain them from being drawn to the street where prosecy for their downfall are.

Ambition to excel to do or the like, for themselves is one of the most commendable which young men can possibly have provided the aim of such high strength can be commendable and praise-worthy and all young men every where should be encouraged and assisted in efforts to various ends But just at this time to adjure all as they are with business and the tendency of the most thoughtful not only to discourage but to discourage all to the choice of business Every man is made to understand that the cities are overstocked with all of above work men that the professions and trades are burdened with more men than can well get a living and more than will be needed in the work and business for some other all more than will be willing to be told that they must be content to do that work for which they are best adapted to them with ruin to attempt to do which they are not fitted slightly but seem more popular May young men have a profession or trade that they have learned and which they have followed for some time should be kept Many good mechanics and farmers are pooled in calling, and the hard rate professional and business men to get well a living while they will be content to follow the direct labor of the farm and the workshop as a life work and will be satisfied and respected by their fellow men they will be much happier than by following the will o the wisp of professional life and will be more likely to succeed

To the young men who are just starting out in life we would say first of all be honest in your dealings Make up your mind that honesty is the best policy and then act accordingly Be temperate in all things Intemperance often ruins the brightest of the young men of our land Be saving but not penurious Learn to keep your money when you get it Do not be afraid to work hard Many a terrible experience could be avoided if young men would only heed the good counsel of old men Be economical in your habits Live within your means and you will be happy Above all be honest in all your dealings with your fellow men and with the Lord Be sure to take advice of your parents before deciding to try their fortunes in any location or in certain kinds of business Shun the cities as you would the plague and resist the temptation to leave the farm and the workshop for the glare and the allurements of city life

AFTER ARMS

The following extract from a dispatch of the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer shows that the rebels are now moving to gain possession of the arms with munitions of war which Lincoln a Greeks captured on the battle fought fields from them The rebels of the Lost Cause are especially desirous to get arms and if they only have them again perhaps with a view to future use in the Lost Cause are arrested the work of conciliation will be strengthened The correspondent says

WASHINGTON Feb 13 Among the many bills introduced by South ern members in Congress the following is the forerunner of a legion more lying back waiting for an opportune moment it to come to the front Mr Evins on leave, introduced the following bill

A bill to authorize the Secretary of War to deliver to A B Rhett T Pinckney Lowndes and others four Napoleon guns with caissons and harness now at Greensborough North Carolina for use of the Marion Artillery Charleston South Carolina.

Be it enacted, &c That the honorable the Secretary of War be and he is hereby authorized and directed to turn over and deliver to the following named persons to wit A Barnwell Rhett, T Pinckney Lowndes James L Robinson and W Jas Whaley, all of the State of south Carolina a battery of four guns Napoleons together with the carriages, caissons harness and accoutrements belonging to the same now held in store by the United States Government at the arsenal in Greensborough, in the State of North Carolina, which said battery formerly belonged to a corporation known as the Marion Artillery, of Charleston, South Carolina

It is understood that if these guns are turned over promptly no action will be taken in regard to the violent manner in which the guns were taken from the Charleston Company by the Lincoln Greeks

HOW THEY CONCILIATE

(From the Boston Traveller)

A few days ago the Associated Press forwarded this dispatch

COLUMBIA S C Feb 14 The legislature to-day elected six Circuit Judges to fill the vacancies occasioned by the recent decision of the Supreme Court as follows First Circuit P C Pressley, Second Circuit, A P Aldrich, Third Circuit, A J Shaw Fourth Circuit J H Hudson Sixth Circuit J J Mackey, and for the Eighth Circuit Thomas Thomson The two democratic caucuses last night, and are all Democrats except Mackey a Republican

This is a pin piece of news and no one unacquainted with the history of conciliation under Hampton would be specially startled by it But this is the sequel to an interesting bit of history illustrating the policy in truth

When Hampton came into power he found that of the eight circuit judges in South Carolina five had been elected as Republicans and this was a most uncomfortable to look for the bulldozers who wanted all our offices condoned whatever might be the fate of the negro or the carpet bagger But how to get rid of them was the difficult problem They must

The Democratic Legislature of South Carolina has met and what it styles the outrageous legislature of the present Democratic Legislature of Ohio and it is at that body that it goes to Democratic Ohio might well resign It calls upon to a pending proposition will not only insure the Government of two or three offices out of the hands of the people but to control out of the hands of the control when elected

On Saturday Bernard Carpenter of the argument for the habeas corpus brought by Mr Hilton against the Government to recover of unpaid income tax Judge Blatchford stated that his decision would be against the defendant and that the trial of the issue would proceed It is that case the case will be heard upon testimony to be taken with Mr Hilton and the Government will be represented by Mr Blatchford the legal importance of the case is great

The Returning Board.

How Anderson was Tried

THE OUTRAGEOUS PROCEEDINGS.

A Statement by J Madison Wells—Object of the Persecution

NEW YORK Feb [illegible] Madison Wells [illegible] in a long article defends himself and says [illegible] grand jury refused to find an indict [illegible] ment against him at the behest of the At [illegible] torney General and the prosecution now is [illegible] information He says the [illegible] de [illegible] Judge Whitaker is the central tool of the Louisiana traitors to prosecute him Whitaker stated before the Anderson trial that the jury was packed for conviction and that all motions before him for removal of cause from his jurisdiction would be overruled and [illegible] jurors in [illegible] one's trial swore they were prejudiced against the prisoner yet they were made to serve Two had declared openly that Anderson ought to be hanged During the greater part of the trial Judge Whitaker was in a beastly state of intoxication

Wells also says Ogden made every effort to have the Grand Jury indict the Returning Board, even to taking Judge Whitaker before the Grand Jury and threatening to [illegible] witnesses for not testifying [illegible] [illegible] Grand Jury would not indict the Board Assistant Attorney General Baker is under indictment for murdering his [illegible] Cavanac and Smart, witnesses are liars and Burke [illegible] absconder The names of the jurors were furnished by the Democratic Com [illegible] mittee and all the changes made in Vernon Parish returns must have been made by Democrats All court officers have thrown every obstacle in the way to prevent Anderson and Wells from producing wit [illegible] nesses

Wells thus pays his Respects to Congressman Gibson

R H Gibson has seen fit on the floor of Congress to calumniate the Returning Board and has attempted a justification of their prosecution This colored Democratic Representative seems to claim a right to assail the white race because he feels boastingly proud of the commingling of African with Caucasian blood in his veins When I was acting foreman of the United States Grand Jury in 1874, this colored Representative of Louisiana in the Congress of the Nation was presented for violation of election laws in fraudulently filling the boxes with tickets that were never voted and would have been indicted and in all probability sent to the penitentiary but for my leniency and forbearance Evidence of his guilt taken before the jury is yet in the hands of one of its members The lineage of this Representative without a nationality can be fully established by many of the old inhabitants of Adams County, Mississippi as well as by many of his neighbors in the Parish of Terrebonne

The Case, Its Managers and Objects

Wells gives the above as samples of the principal tools and means employed to secure the conviction of the members of the Returning Board in the case improperly called "The State of Louisiana vs J Madison Wells and others" but really and truly it should be called "The case of Samuel J Tilden vs R B Hayes" It is a contest for the office of President of the United States and the patronage of the Executive Department of the Federal Government It is chiefly managed by David Dudley Field, with the advice and pecuniary assistance of the National Democratic Committee A verdict of a packed jury of Louisiana Democrats procured in the manner above pointed out, will, it is expected be accepted by "the people of the United States as a judicial settlement of Tilden's title to the Presidency It is a bold and desperate game for a great stake Myself and colleagues on the Returning Board are merely outposts of the picket guard which they hope to capture and then they will surprise the garrison if possible and claim the patronage of the Government as the spoils of war Wells says the question is a national one in which it is hoped by the employment of traitors, murderers thieves perjurers and other criminals to make up such a case as shall enable them to wrench the sceptre from the hands of President Hayes and give it to the henchmen of the Democracy The eyes of the leaders of the rebellion are already fixed upon the high places of the Government which they feel assured are as good as in their posses [illegible] sion already, as nothing stands in their way but Wells and Anderson whose conviction they have contracted for and the contrac [illegible] tors are hurrying up their work It is a renewal in insidious guise of the tre [illegible] mendous conflict of 1876, perhaps of 1861 It becomes the Republicans of the North to be on their guard and give our Louisiana hirelings to understand that it is time for them to be quiet or be prepared for open and unrelenting war

The President Relies on Rebel Honor

WASHINGTON Feb 19 Representative Ellis of Louisiana, states that in a protracted interview with President Hayes last night he received the assurance that the administration never contemplated interference by the United States courts or otherwise with the action of the courts or State Government of Louisiana, and that while the President regretted the prosecution of Anderson and Wells it did not alter his course towards the State or people of Louisiana It was a matter which involved their honor and he trusted their honor

WASHINGTON, D C Feb 19

Mr. Hamlin presented a petition of the business men of Bangor, Me., in favor of the repeal of the bankrupt act Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. Spencer from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported back the resolution of the Senate instructing the committee to inquire and report whether any person has been appointed in the army contrary to the provisions of the act of July, 1866, etc, together with the desired information Ordered printed and lie on the table [illegible]

House

Mr Harris Chairman of the Election Committee called up the election case of Acklin vs Darrell from the 4th Louisiana District—Majority report in favor of Acklin and minority report in favor of Darrell, sitting member

Mr Hale of Maine desired to obtain the floor to reply to a speech made a few days ago by Gibson of La, but withdrew his request with the understanding that he should be allowed an hour during the debate on the election case

Mr Stephens said that to-morrow or as soon as this case is disposed of I shall move to proceed to business on the Speaker's table with a view of taking up the House bill which has come back from the Senate with amendments I state further that my object will be to move to concur in the amendments (Applause on the Republican side)

Mr Lu Fer—Every supporter of the bill will vote against that

Mr Bland explained that he intended to make the same motion as the gentleman from Georgia intimated he would make

Mr Buckner said he intended this morning to move to refer the bill to the Committee on Banking but he was not particular how [illegible] bill will be brought up

Mr Harris in opening his speech on this [illegible] said he was not sorry the silver bill would [illegible] come up to-day as he [illegible] to have no [illegible] [illegible] of the bill would be [illegible] promoted by postponement

At the [illegible] of Mr Harris speech Mr Hale of Me obtained the floor and referred to the remark made Thursday by Gibson of Louisiana that he (Hale) had taken one slanderous and outrageous [illegible] to denounce the people of Louisiana He denied that he had ever denounced those people On the contrary he had taken occasion heretofore on the floor of the House to speak plainly upon the grievances which existed in that State and which he had ear [illegible] estly regretted

He reviewed the course of events in [illegible] from the [illegible] of Grant's Ad [illegible] ministration bringing forward prominent [illegible] the fact that the title of the Packard Government and the Packard Legislature have been settled by the Electoral Commission [illegible] based upon the count of the Returning Board [illegible] [illegible] the President has been confirmed by the Electoral Committee [illegible] has been accepted by both Houses of Congress [illegible] has also [illegible] [illegible] Kellogg elected by the Packard Legislature He spoke of the [illegible] of the Legislature on the Federal Government for protection against the violence [illegible] He did not know and nobody could tell the reflections that passed through the mind of the President on that subject but he could see that the President looking on the subject with a desire for peace with a disposition for concili [illegible] tion with a tendency towards tenderness determined to start and commit his admin [illegible] istration to a course not of repression or of strong hand upon the people but of concession of magnanimity and to dis [illegible] regard the call of the Legislature of Louisiana

He went on to speak of the sending of the Committee to Louisiana by the President the result of which visit was the disintegration of the Packard government and the installation of the Nicholls government The Legislature and Governor Nicholls had promised pardon for all political offenses He asked the House to turn back and he asked President Hayes to turn back [illegible] mind six months to the 1st of May 1877 —would anybody have been found then to predict that in less than six days the men who foremost of all, made themselves offensive to the Louisiana Democracy because they carried out the law of that State and thereby became political offenders against that party in Louisiana and throughout the country would have been prosecuted?

Mr Hale went on to say that there was a profound impression that the proceeding in Louisiana had its root, its main spring, its source elsewhere that there were many who believed the whole performance was dictated and driven forward by restless men, who did not mean ever to admit the Presidential title had been settled there

Mr Hale went on to argue that there was no legal ground for the prosecution of Anderson of the Returning Board who had been four times elected to the Legislature from his own Parish who always stood high [illegible] private [illegible] and who never before was considered in our [illegible] a malefactor [illegible] of the Democratic party in the South who are now so [illegible] for upholding the law and for punishment of any infraction of it lurk [illegible] in the swamps and on the hillsides and there was no encouragement which could be held out to that section showing the President a good faith which the President had not resorted to. In conclusion he intimated that it might be the constitutional duty of the President to see that no injustice was done a citizen of the United States

Mr Gibson of Louisiana replied to Mr Hale at some length stating that the Returning Board was being prosecuted for forgery

After a short debate the bill was read the third time and passed, [illegible] [illegible] nays

NEW YORK CITY

Tilden and the Electoral Bill

NEW YORK Feb 19 The Courier-Journal says that in the end the complete history of the mismanagement of the Democratic campaign after the election of Tilden, will unfold itself and it will then be found that Tilden himself was opposed to the electoral bill and made his opposition sufficiently distinct to Mr Hewitt and that Mr Hewitt suppressed Mr Tilden's telegram and went ahead in spite of his master, but it was unsafe to swap horses in the middle of the stream Mr Hewitt would have been superseded in the middle of January

Seventy Millions of Starving People.

The Awful Horrors of Famine.

LONDON, Feb 19 The Times editorially says it is stated on authority which cannot be questioned that seventy millions of human beings are now starving in the famine stricken provinces of North China. Imagination fails to cope with so gigantic a calamity

GREAT BRITAIN

The London Times' View of the Silver Bill.

LONDON, Feb. 19. The Times' financial article says, United States funds surprised many people by advancing instead of falling on the news that the silver bill had passed. We always said that public was not selling stock to any appreciable extent and the weakness which now and then characterized the bonds was due as much as anything to passing fears of the dealers and to speculative selling which only made the market harder. Hence on receipt of better New York prices and because the worst is now known, the market actually rose by the mere efforts of those who had sold to buy back. Besides it has been noticed that the limitation put upon the quantity of silver that may be coined within a given time is itself tantamount to making a subsidiary coinage, at all events for some considerable time, so that there is little alarm felt and holders stick to their bonds This does not alter the effect that political factions in America have been playing fast and loose with the national credit

Austria's Position as Defined by Auersperg

VIENNA Feb 1[illegible] Prince Auersperg, President of the Austrian Council of Ministers to-day said the Government had declared it does not consider binding any arrangement between belligerents affecting the interests of this Monarchy as long as such arrangements are not agreed to by the powers We expect an early meeting of the Congress [illegible] quently the Government [illegible] to make a detailed statement of the news It is bound however to declare generally that it cannot regard some of the peace stipulations as consonant with the interests of the Monarchy This does not apply to the amelioration of the Christian [illegible] to the provisions involving an altera [illegible] tion of the balance of power interest to [illegible] [illegible] of Austria

Conditions for Non Occupation of Gallipoli

LONDON, Feb 19 A special from St Petersburg says that Gortschakoff has declared to Lord Loftus that he will not [illegible] [illegible] upon Gallipoli provided the British troops do not land

Bismarck Defines Germany's Interests

BERLIN, Feb 19 In the Reichstag to-day in response to the interpellation Bismarck stated that he had little practically new to tell He then discussed the apparent provisions of the preliminaries of peace and allowed that Germany's interest were not affected in such a manner as to oblige her to deviate from her previous attitude He described the apprehension respecting the Dardanelles as not justified by the actual situation Regarding the position to be taken by Germany, he rejected emphatically all suggestions that Germany should intervene and declared she was willing to act only to mediate but did not wish to exercise the office of arbiter of Europe

Prince Bismarck also stated that a Russian official communication made it certain that the chief interest of Germany namely the freedom of water ways such as the Straits and the Danube for commerce would be maintained He believed that it was Russia's interest to come to an understanding and not have the fear of complications with Austria or England constantly impending The supposition that Russia might forcibly compel the other powers to accept a settlement to which they objected he held entirely out of the question He denied that the Russians had pushed forward their troops under the cloak of the negotiations He believed that all the powers desired to send representatives speedily to the conference He energetically repudiated the idea of Germany engaging in the war relative to the Eastern question Nothing should induce him to hazard a rupture with any power relative to the question in which Germany had no direct interest No Government at least neither of those principally interested had proposed that Germany should enter [illegible] any [illegible] The Chancellor's speech was loudly cheered

The English Fleet Must Withdraw

ST PETERSBURG Feb 19 The Agence Russe states it is probable the meeting of the Powers will merely take the form of a conference The Turks are becoming once more recalcitrant in regard to the peace negotiations The Agence says the Russian must approach nearer to Constantinople if the British fleet remains in the Sea of Marmora The withdrawal of the fleet to Besika Bay would, however solve the difficulty

Servia's Demands

LONDON Feb 19 A telegram from Semlin reports that M Ristic Servian Prime Minister, has drawn up a memorandum to the Czar claiming the whole of old Servia This Servians are resolved not to evacuate the conquered territory [illegible] forcibly [illegible] It is stated that [illegible] [illegible] to add Pashalik of Nisch to [illegible] A collision between Servia and Russia is therefore probable

The London Post's View Concerning a Russian Advance

LONDON Feb 19 The Post's leader relative to a possible advance of the Russians on Gallipoli says The Russians now affect to consider the advance of [illegible] [illegible] the position They are apparently disposed to occupy Gallipoli unless we agree to give them guarantees [illegible] further advance [illegible] guarantees would be found in Russian occupation of the forts on the Bosphorus or [illegible] [illegible] promise by England not to enter the Black Sea

A Russian Force of 100,000 Men in Roumania.

LONDON Feb, 20 The Berlin correspondent of the Times states that the Russians are concentrating 300,000 men in Roumania This occasions much comment in Austria

The Telegraph believes Gortschakoff has attached no unreasonable conditions to his assurance that the Russians will not occupy Gallipoli

The Telegraph's Vienna correspondent says that a difficulty has arisen relative to the date of the convocation of the Congress Gortschakoff considers a preliminary treaty of peace should be first signed, but Austria objects to Russia being able to present a treaty as a fait accompli

CITY AFFAIRS

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN

The Board spent some time in a desultory conversation in which the Mayor joined in relation to the subject of the investigation of the affairs of the City Agency, the Aldermen charging that the report should have been made to them, that they were as much interested in the welfare and honor of the city as the Mayor, that he had no right to commence a suit against the City Agent until he had made the Board acquainted with all the facts in the case and consulted the City Solicitor in regard to the matter. The Mayor replied that he acted under sec. 8d of the City Charter.

The Aldermen appealed to the City Solicitor on this point and he thought His Honor misunderstood the animus of the section, and that he should have consulted the Board in the matter of bringing a suit. The Mayor stated that he would lay the whole report before the Board as soon as he could get it out of the hands of the County Attorney.

An order was passed directing the committee composed of Messrs. Prescott and Crossman, to report at once.

Mr Crossman, one of the committee, offered a duplicate report, which the Board declined to receive

On motion of Mr Morison of Ward 4 an order to rescind the order appointing said committee was passed.

The Aldermen, all of whom save Mr Thorndike, took part in the discussion, claimed they were desirous of having the Agency thoroughly investigated They had no desire to shield any one from the penalties of the law but insisted that the Mayor had no right to ignore them in the matter

An order instructing the Overseers of the Poor to be governed by a list of articles of food therein named in issuing supplies to outside paupers was presented and the same was laid on the table The order is as follows

Ordered That the Overseers of the Poor be and hereby are directed to hereafter in [illegible] rations to applicants for assistance from the city from the following list and to deviate from said list only in case of sickness [illegible] corn meal, salt pork beans [illegible] potatoes salt fish soap [illegible] tea [illegible] candles matches Also,

BUSKIN CLUB

Opening at Norombega — Beautiful Scenery Large Audience—Fine Presentation of Our Boys

[illegible] the citizens of Bangor [illegible] [illegible] the Buskin Club [illegible] them a set of scenery which [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in [illegible] to [illegible] utmost of [illegible] Our boys [illegible] [illegible] that has attended an entertainment of this kind in this city for many year On entering the door all were greatly surprised and highly delighted with the magnificent appearance of the stage [illegible] beautiful drop curtain [illegible] a scene in the Yosemite Valley present a marked contrast to the old and dilapidated affair which has confronted our citizens for a number of years and the large [illegible] from gallery to parquette [illegible] the ceiling and beautifully painted with [illegible] tragedy and comedy on either side [illegible] with the [illegible] [illegible] The [illegible] has also been greatly improved by extending the front [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of the footlights which throw a full [illegible] light upon the stage showing off the [illegible] [illegible] Another great improvement [illegible] lights [illegible] new arrangement by which the prompter has every light in the hall under his control and without moving from his position can raise or lower the lights as the occasion requires

At about eight o clock the orchestra the services of which Mr Andrews had freely given, played the opening overture The selection [illegible] [illegible] Alsace [illegible] of rare excellence and was executed in the usual artistic manner [illegible] [illegible] representing Perkyn Middlewick (Mr [illegible] A Owen) Country [illegible] [illegible] Sir Geoffrey Champneys Bart Mr [illegible] M Hersey) and Perkyn Middlewick a retired and wealthy butter man, anxiously waiting the return of their sons Talbot Champneys Mr [illegible] M Sanford) and Charles Middlewick (M [illegible] Small) Our Boys who have been abroad for several years In this scene the audience are also introduced to Clarissa Champneys the Baronet's sister (Mrs W H S Lawrence) Violet Melrose an heiress (Miss Mary Prentiss) Mary Melrose (Mrs [illegible] M Hersey) Sir Geoffrey has set his heart on a marriage between his son and Violet, but the son thinks that as he is the one principally concerned in the matter that he would prefer to see the lady before making any promises He gave the character of the english exquisite to perfection The retired butter man finally discovers that his son is in love with Violet and as he don't fancy high toned people he threatens to cut him off with a shilling if he does not obey him and give the lady up

The next scene was in the drawing room at Sir Geoffrey's The stage settings and the scenery called forth loud applause from the large audience In this act "Our Boys" and "Our Girls" flirted contrary to orders, and the curtain drops as the young men are driven forth from their home by the enraged parents Seven months are now supposed to have elapsed when we again find "Our Boys" in a cheap boarding house, with but little money left and in poor spirits In this act Belinda, a lodging house slave, (Miss Mellie Brett) is introduced. The young men who have kept their residence a secret are finally surprised by a visit from the young ladies to whom they are attached, but who thinking they have been deceived leave the room in anger. In the meantime Perkyn Middlewick and Sir Geoffrey also discover the hiding place of "Our Boys," and after several explanations, the parents yield, and all are made happy.

The leading characters, Talbot Champneys of which we have already spoken and Perkyn Middlewick were excellently presented, and Mr. Owen has added another laurel to the wreath he has already won The acting of Mr. Hersey and Mr. Small was in perfect keeping with the above parts, Miss Prentiss gave a very smooth rendering of her part; Mrs. E. M. Hersey, who is well known to Bangor audiences, gave a very happy rendering of the poor but gay cousin, the part of the maiden aunt was sustained in a highly creditable manner by Mrs Lawrence, Miss Mellie Brett did finely in her part and Mr Kelliher and Mr Brett showed that inferior parts could be presented in a highly satisfactory manner Both the ladies and gentlemen are entitled to great credit for the excellent manner in which they sustained their parts

On Thursday evening the Club will present the beautiful comedy of "Ours" with about the same cast The tickets can be obtained at Bugbee's and we hope that the Club will be greeted by another full house

A SPORTING REPORTER WRITES UP A MUSICAL PERFORMANCE.

On Saturday evening one of our sporting editors mistaking an order meant for a music critic to write up "Landliche Hochzeit, etc," as an order for him to obtain the points of a new horse proceeded to the Academy of Music and on his return wrote the following criticism. The regular report of the performance of Landliche Hochzeit, by the Philharmonic Society was printed. The sporting man's report is:

The most conspicuous part of the exhibition was the entire absence of pool selling, though there were many people present who would have liked to put up a few ducats on the big roan fiddle. At the start it seems however that the late decision of John Morrissey has had its effect in sporting circles. Time was called exactly at eight o'clock and as near as we could judge about sixty fiddlers files and bugles entered for the contest. The fiddlers won the toss and took the inside. [illegible] The umpire with a small club acted also as tarter. The timer was not in sight and when we asked for the bottleholder we were told that he was chalking up at Tales's. Just before the start the umpire stood upon a cheese-box with a small lunch counter in front of him and shook his fists at the [illegible] to keep them down. He continued to play a single-stick with himself during the entire fight but not one of the contestants looked at him. [illegible] Landliche Hochzeit [illegible] nearly every one of the sorrel fiddles kept leading. The man with the French horn tried to call them back but they set right down to work at a slogging gait with the big roan fiddle bringing up the rear. At the first quarter the little black violin broke badly and went into the fire, but fiddles on the left kept together and struck up a rattling gait. At the half pole there was a big change, and the man with the straight horn showed signs of fatigue. He evidently had got the cross-buttock in the first round. There was a little bootsliding [illegible] with the sorrel [illegible] the half [illegible] was pushed [illegible] broken and wheezed [illegible] the big roan fiddle [illegible] back stretch. The gallant [illegible] hallooing [illegible] to keep up with [illegible] the race. [illegible] box seemed to reserve his decision. He seemed tired and the riders [illegible] to find their bottleholders and to get weighed for the handicap in the Beethoven race. It was a nice exhibition and for a rainy night when there is no sparring at Harry Hill's or cock-fighting at Hoboken, the Philharmonic may be a good thing. It is a little tiresome to the [illegible] must be hard on the big roan fiddle.—New York Telegram.

It is stated that the late Pope took a great interest in the colored population of our southern states. He closely watched the progress of [illegible] with the expectation that the way would be opened for a great work among the freedmen. When emancipation had been accomplished he directed the present Cardinal Manning of England to [illegible] 300 of the most promising to [illegible] selected and placed in some suitable college that they might be trained for missionaries in our southern states. For this purpose he not only made liberal appropriations from the church revenues but also gave freely from his private fund. The result of this understanding is not stated but there certainly are at Washington and other southern points [illegible] churches composed chiefly of colored people. Rev M W Taylor [illegible] Methodist clergyman at Cincinnati [illegible] gratefully acknowledging the papal efforts in behalf of his race [illegible] Protestants to do their share of the work and [illegible] recommend that they make a beginning by [illegible] their social prejudices against the black man. The advice is good and [illegible] in the coming struggle.

An impatient [illegible] fiddler [illegible] could eat the meal as fast as your mill grinds it. How long could you [illegible] boy.

When [illegible] Mr Longworth [illegible] remarked [illegible] no great difference [illegible] our name [illegible] replied Mr Long [illegible] low but [illegible] of it the fellow.

One great and holy thought from a retired and obscure man may live when thrones are fallen and the memory of those who filled them obliterated and like an undying fire may illuminate and quicken all future generations.

As long as the waters of persecution are upon the earth so long we dwell in the ark but when the land is dry the dove itself will be tempted to a wandering course of life and never return to the house of her safety.—Jeremy Taylor.

Of all the loves on earth the one most like the divine love is that of the good mother—so unselfish, unforgetting and watchful, considerate, free from jealousy and desiring the good of her children far more than her own happiness.

Making a child suffer for wrong doing is merciful to the child. There is no mercy in letting the child have its own will, plunging headlong to destruction with the bit in its mouth. There is no mercy to society or to the criminal if the wrong is not repressed and the right vindicated.

We don't want a Moore Township girl for a lung tester. At a singing school up there the other night, a young man was bragging about the strength of his lungs and invited a girl in the company to hit him in the breast. She was left-handed, had been washing that day and was tired and didn't feel very active but at his urgent request she let go at him. When his friends went to pick him up he said he thought he would die easier lying down. He had lost all recollection of having any lungs but the young woman consoled him by admitting that she didn't hit him as hard as she might have done, because she rather liked him.—Easton Free Press.

STATE OF MAINE.

To the Hon Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court in and for the County of Penobscot

The undersigned Trustees of Bangor Savings Bank of Bangor, respectfully represent that by reason of loss on certain of its assets, and by depreciation of the value thereof without the fault of Trustees the said Bank is unable within the time allowed by law after demand or notice to pay all its debts and liabilities and is therefore insolvent.

Wherefore said Trustees pray your Hon Court after due notice given to all persons interested at such time and place as you may appoint, an examination may be made of the affairs of said Bank [illegible] its assets and liabilities and that thereupon you would order and adjudge that the deposit account of each depositor may be reduced so as to divide the loss arising from such depreciation pro rata among the depositors thereby rendering said corporation solvent so that its further proceedings [illegible] will not be hazardous to the public or those who have deposited funds in its custody, and that such other and further proceedings, orders and decrees may be adopted as to your Honors may appear proper and judicious according to the provisions of the [illegible] statute of the State in such case made and provided.

And I, WILLIAM W BOLSTER, Bank Examiner being [illegible] of opinion that the prayer of the petition of the Trustees is just and proper and that the facts therein are set forth [illegible]

IT WILL CURE THE WORST CASES

Nine Times out of Ten.

We can prove this to the satisfaction of any one [illegible] letters now on file in our office. We will present one case in point. A young married lady in Boston was suffering from the disease [illegible] and was not expected to live but a few moments [illegible] the unfortunate were [illegible] was [illegible] attending [illegible] so certain were they of the near approach of death that the bedclothes had been arranged for the [illegible] The father and mother [illegible] State of Maine people and all know from [illegible] the wonderful curative powers of JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. In the early morning the father [illegible] been out to the nearest drug store and obtained a bottle and [illegible] the physician arrived and stated that the wife and daughter could not live but a short time the mother timidly told the doctor that she had great faith in JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT and asked if she might give her daughter some. The doctor replied "Certainly. If you wish it will do neither harm nor good." While this conversation was taking place the poor lady was gasping for breath, and it was evident that she could live but a few moments longer. But the mother quickly uncorked the bottle and gave a teaspoonful clear to her child the effect was like magic. In an instant she could breathe a little easier—the mother immediately commenced to bathe the throat externally and in a short time all present saw that the crisis was passed. In a few hours she was considered out of danger and in a few days was well. The husband of this lady related these facts to Mr Jennings of our firm, a few days ago in Boston. He said that JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT saved the life of his wife, without the shadow of a doubt. Why should not every family in this State supply themselves with this priceless remedy at once and so be prepared for emergencies?

What is the trifling cost of a bottle, or a half dozen of this Anodyne, compared with the worth of a human life? Lose not a moment, but let every family be supplied. If any are too poor to pay send to us and state the facts and we will furnish it for nothing.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

Bathe the throat with quite warm water, wipe dry, saturate a red flannel with the Liniment, and bind round the neck several thicknesses, with a white cotton cloth outside. Give a teaspoonful internally; repeat twice a day till cured.
